

"The Word became flesh, and he lived among us..." This is the very reason of our joy, a reality that gives us hope because we have a God who lives in the midst of his people. A God who is not distant, who perfectly understand our misery, suffering, sorrow, and difficulties, for he, himself endure all those. His Incarnation, embraces all our dirt, our sinfulness, purged our sins away and gives us salvation. He is the only God who can clean us again, can restore our beauty, brings back our hope and gives us reason to rejoice always. For his love is infinite for each and every one of us, He immensely loved us and is crazy loving us. A reality that is incomprehensible, even beyond our understanding, but it is TRUE, and it is REAL. This truth gives us peace, teach us how to love, and gives us the capacity to love immensely as well.

May the nativity of our Lord, gives us the grace to simply let ourselves be loved by Him. To allow His deep love be felt and experienced up to our core; to transform us and to make us new, so, we can be a Christ to others, the good news to others, announcing peace and proclaiming His salvation.
